

“Q-Crew at the Zoo”

On-Line Course for Educators

This 5-hour multimedia course is designed for educators who want to learn about animals and environmental science.

Learn how to bring animals alive in your classroom! “Q-Crew at the Zoo” is a fun, on-line learning experience for K-12 educators.

Short, multimedia lessons will help you learn more about orangutans, ball pythons, lemurs, lions, sandcats – and just about any animal you’d find in a local zoo. Plus! Educators who enroll in this course will have the rights to utilize the videos, online lessons and interactive quizzes right in their classes with their students!

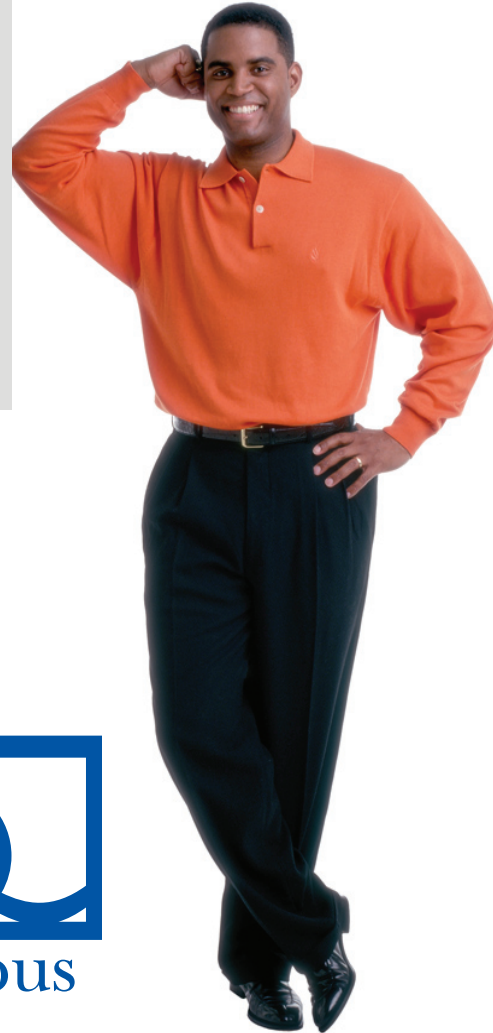

This course awards (5) Act 48 hours to participants who successfully complete all online lessons and submit a related standards-based lesson plan.

Only $15

Course Objectives:

- How to build and incorporate the learning triangle in your classroom
- What media literacy is and how it pertains to your role as a teacher or child care provider
- How to expand on what children watch on television
- How to make television viewing a tool in your classroom
- How to match TV program content and activities with individual classroom learning goals

This WQLN Q-Campus course is designed for educators in need of Act 48 training. Unlike traditional face-to-face training which requires giving up evenings or weekends, this interactive course allows the teacher to participate in training at a time convenient for their schedule. Study from home, at work, or during your lunch-break!

This course provides a multi-media mixture of video*, PowerPoint lessons, scrolling text, additional resources and activities. Participants are instructed by the course leader on how to proceed through the on-line course and how to best utilize resources. The course can be accessed through any Internet connection, on any compatible computer.

Q-Campus on-line courses have the unique ability to address the needs of learners with either dial-up OR broadband Internet access. This unique feature benefits those who normally are restricted from participating in video-based online training due to dial-up access or network administrator restrictions on high bandwidth streaming.*
