

Mariangela Vacatello

Critically acclaimed concert pianist Mariangela Vacatello is on top of the world, musically speaking, and WQLN Radio invites you to experience the passion and drama that led her there. On Friday, March 9, Vacatello will give the final concert of our 2011-2012 Lobby Performance season.

The youngest in a family of accomplished musicians, Vacatello has performed as a soloist at the world's most prestigious venues, from Salzburg's Mozarteum Auditorium to Carnegie Hall. She is a favorite at international piano competitions, including the Van Cliburn Competition and Norway's Top of the World Competition, in which she placed first. Dominating difficult pieces with a power that belies her delicate appearance—while respecting the nuances and voice of each composer—Vacatello has earned the reputation of “fearlessness personified.”

The audience at this live Lobby Performance will have the opportunity to meet Vacatello face to face in the intimate setting of the WQLN Radio studios. Audience members will also have the chance to win tickets to see her perform with the Erie Philharmonic on Saturday, March 10. As always, this Lobby Performance is free, and everyone is welcome, so we hope to see you there!

Mariangela Vacatello

Date: Friday, March 9

Time: Noon

Place: WQLN Lobby
8425 Peach Street, Erie, PA

Cost: FREE

Plus, a few lucky audience members will win tickets to the Erie Philharmonic concert featuring Mariangela Vacatello on Saturday, March 10.

*Mariangela
Vacatello*

Information on upcoming Lobby Performances will be on WQLN-FM 91.3 and at www.wqln.org.